Bankruptcy is caused due to the inability of paying off the outstanding debts while the Insolvency arises due to the non-payment of financial obligations. The Insolvency may not necessarily lead to bankruptcy while all bankrupt individual/company are insolvent. In Bankruptcy, the person/company goes to the court and voluntarily declares himself as an insolvent. Bankruptcy is initiated by the individual himself, wherein the person/company goes to the court and declares himself as an insolvent, therefore, the process is voluntary. On the other hand, insolvency is involuntary. Bankruptcy is the Victorian insolvency by V. Markham Lester, 1995, Clarendon Press, Oxford University Press edition, in English. Insolvency describes the financial state of a company when its debts or liabilities exceed its assets and available cash. As soon as a company is insolvent, it must take action to resolve the situation. This may include renegotiating debt, realising assets to discharge debt, or even borrowing more money and increasing the liabilities. There's a wealth of legislation that imposes obligations on company officers in relation to the interests of creditors. There are secured creditors, whose lending is By V. Markham Lester.
