Inclusive education teaches visually impaired and sighted children to learn and play together, making the concept of diversity and equality a practical and natural way of thinking for them. EBU supports Inclusive education, provided that adequate support is guaranteed for blind and partially sighted students. To this aim EBU started important partnerships with the International Council for Education and Rehabilitation of People with Visual Impairment, Europe (ICEVI-Europe) and the Inclusive Mobility Alliance (IMA), an alliance of Europea Presentation on theme: "Standards for Education and Rehabilitation of Students who are Blind and Visually Impaired A general overview of accepted standards for Teachers of the." " Presentation transcript: 1 Standards for Education and Rehabilitation of Students who are Blind and Visually Impaired A general overview of accepted standards for Teachers of the Visually Impaired. 2 Services to Our Students ĩ,j "œ The quality of educational services for children and youth with exceptionalities resides in the abilities, qualifications, and competencies of personnel who provide the service. " Council for (iii) Rehabilitation Council of India Act, 1992 deals with the development of manpower for providing rehabilitation services (MSJE 2009). Moreover in the higher education sector, the University Grants Commission (UGC) is supporting universities and colleges in the country to involve in special education activities to empower differently-abled persons. Information needs of blind and visually impaired people. Not much is known about the information seeking behavior of blind people; the information needs of blind people have been studied by Williamson, Schauder, and Bow (2000). Libraries, as the providers of information, should be at the forefront of removing the barriers hindering access to information.
