These top tools are the ones lawyers can't live without: Dropbox is a service that allows you to synch your files across multiple machines, including laptops, desktops and mobile devices. Getting started with Dropbox is very simple: Once you download and install their free application, you designate a special Dropbox folder on your primary work machine. Next you drag all of the files and folders you want to synchronize across multiple machines into your Dropbox folder. Evernote is a comprehensive note taking and digital organization system. Like Dropbox, Evernote works on laptops, desktops and mobile devices. For practice management software designed specifically for lawyers, Rocket Matter allows attorneys to track cases, bill time and invoice clients through a browser. Managing a Law Practice: What You Need to Learn. 2000; GARY A.
