Fra Angelico (Fra Giovanni da Fiesole) Italian, about 1395/1400-1455 Tempera on panel In the Bible, the Angel Gabriel announced to Mary that she has been chosen to conceive a child to be the son of God. Here Gabriel is shown leaning forward with dazzling, outstretched wings. This exception, a fresco by Fra Angelico, a renowned 15th-century painter, comes from the monastery of San Domenico da Fiesole, where Fra Angelico, a Dominican monk, was prior. After the monastery was closed in the 19th century this fresco was removed and sold. Fra Angelico (c.1387-1455) is most celebrated for his series of fresco paintings at the San Marco Monastery in Florence. A brilliant colourist he is a painter who stands on the very cusp of modernity. His painting harks back to Giotto, and his best known pupil was Benozzo Gozzoli. More about.
